

Wit and Whimsy

Missives From the Jet Set

JONATHAN SOROFF

Warning: Bad China Metaphor

It might be part of the Lenox Hotel, but The Dome Room is more like a giant Wedgewood teapot, especially when decked out in blue for Tailored on the Town. A fundraiser for Tailored for Education—which provides school uniforms in developing countries where they're mandatory—the event was hosted by founders Megan Kelly and Jessica Roy and had an A-list committee that included the holy quintet of gorgeous blondes: Linda Holliday, Beth Dickerson, Laura Baldini, Elisha Daniels and Sue Brady. Guests were treated to a blue candy buffet and a performance by superstar-in-progress Shea Rose, and the evening's funniest remark came from co-host Kristen Daly, who said, "At this point in the evening, we're hoping you're high enough on sugar and booze to write us a check."